

12.2 Issues Relating to Water's Sustainability

Across

4. The bottled water industry creates many _____.
6. The world's largest _____ project, Three Gorges Dam, is built across the Yangtze River in China and has received much global attention.
9. If facts about an issue are presented in a fair and unbiased way, we say that the speaker is being _____.
10. Bottled water can be shipped to areas that do not have _____ water supplies.
11. Bottled water can be life-saving in _____ when a supply of safe drinking water is not available.
13. One issue of debate in Canada is the destruction of Great Lakes coastal _____ habitats.
15. Treated tap water across Canada is of good _____ and can be consumed safely.
16. All issues relating to our water systems whether they affect the local, national or global community require careful and _____ thinking.

Down

1. When wetlands become filled up and built on, the _____ they provide for wildlife is destroyed.
2. More and more people in Ontario are concerned about the quality and supply of water in the _____.
3. There are _____ standards for how drinking water should be monitored and managed in First Nations communities.
5. It would take a large increase in the price of municipal water to reach the price of _____ water.
7. Removing and selling water from freshwater systems has become the topic of a national and international _____.
8. The growing export of our water resources has created great _____.
12. _____ sources such as newspapers, magazines, television, radio and websites often contain biased information on an issue.
14. A _____ is an obvious opinion about an issue.